Evaluation Design team

Neil Jacobs (head of ORP)

Marcus Munafò (current project lead, institutional lead University of Bristol)

Bill Greenhalf (past project lead, institutional lead University of Liverpool)

David Shanks (incoming project lead, institutional lead University College London)

Alice Howarth (ORCA University of Liverpool)
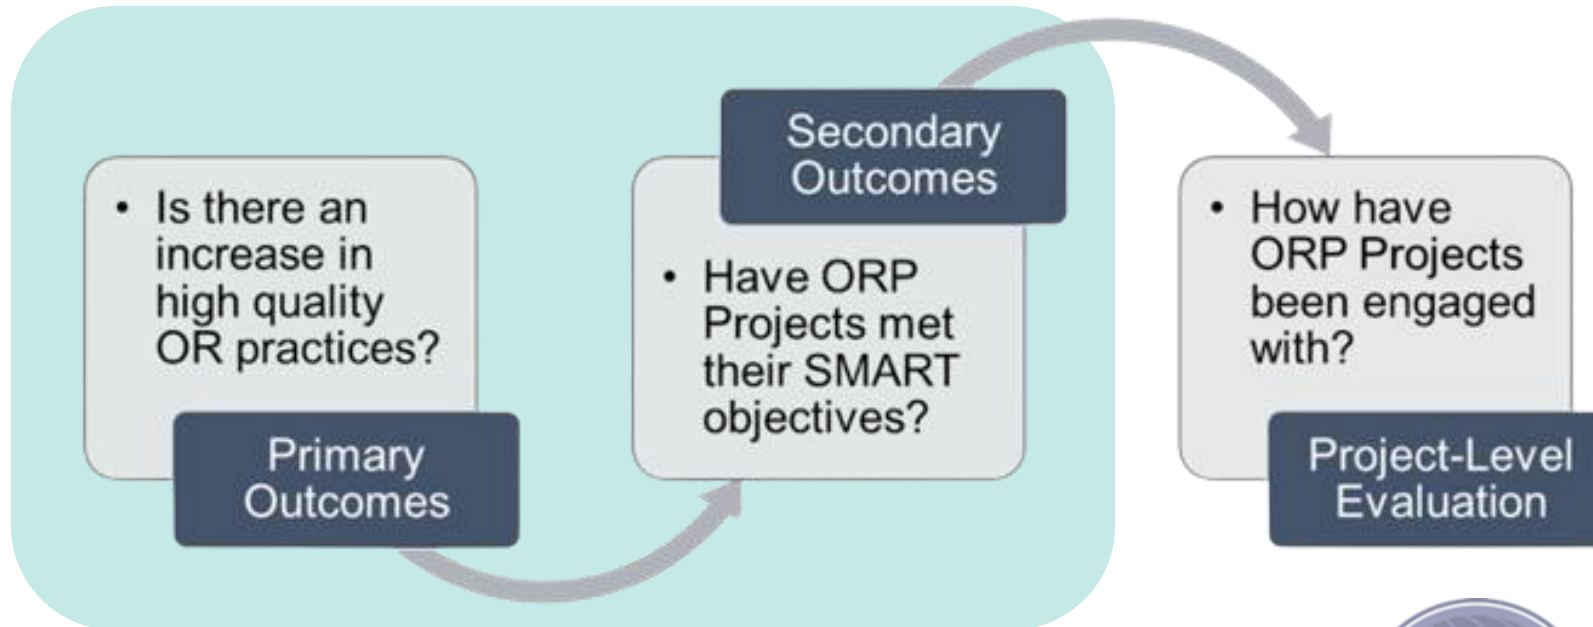

Ruth Davies (ORCA King's College London)

Jackie Thompson (ORCA Oxford University)

Lavinia Gambelli (ORCA University of Bristol)

The aims of the ORP evaluation are to:

• establish a baseline of OR practices at partner institutions

• identify changes in OR practices at those institutions over time

• begin to identify where those changes might relate to activities of the ORP

ORP Evaluation Protocol

outline the methodology to be used for evaluating the ORP:

- Training

- Reward and Recognition

- Sharing and Integrating

Project-level evaluation templates

Data management plan

Data collection pilot

Evaluation Design project

ORP Survey

The first ORP Survey was conducted in 2022-2023.

The ORP plans another survey in 2025 and one in 2027.

Aim: To provide evidence of the changes in prevalence of open research practices.

Key features:

- Aim for a representative sample using a stratified sampling approach

- Use language consistent with other surveys to enable comparisons

Evaluation Design project

Timeline

Aug 2024	Briefing shared with partners
Oct 2024	Draft survey instrument
	Guidance shared with partners
Nov 2024	Feedback and pilot data from institutions
	Test analysis pipeline
Dec 2024	Revise instrument and guidance
	Revise analysis pipeline
Jan 2025	Share final instrument and guidance with partners
Feb 2025	Partners open survey at their institution
Apr 2025	Partners close survey at their institution
May 2025	Partners send survey data to UKRN
Jul 2025	All analysis complete
	Findings shared with partners and others